1. Pay special attention to the design and approval of pressure vessels. Ensure proper design methods are followed and approvals are obtained.

2. Provide bladder type expansion tanks, located at the highest level practical in the system.